

This will lead to even greater reduction in available veiwpoints than that which has so dramatically occurred in the last decade. I believe that relaxing the rules on broadcast ownership is a very bad idea. Diversity of media ownership is vital to american democracy. Our democracy cannot effectively function if the public is not exposed to a diversity of viewpoints.